

Photograph a Door

Doors are mysterious objects - and a natural subject for photographers. They instantly begin a story with the question - what lies behind this entrance? You can shoot it wide and show the entire threshold - or go in tight and hone in on some of the details that make the door interesting - like the peephole in this prison cell door.

012

10-20mm | f/8 | 1.6 seconds | ISO 100